Title: Regarding alleged disruptions to communal harmony.

SHRI B. MANICKAM TAGORE (VIRUDHUNAGAR): Thank you, Chairman, Sir. Tamil Nadu has always been a State which is very peaceful. We celebrate communal harmony and faith. But for the past few years, a new kind of politics called, 'dead body politics' has started in Tamil Nadu. Particularly, there is a retired IPS officer, who has come there from Karnataka, whose work is to create tensions in each incident of death of a young kid who commits suicide. He links it with minority communities. Christians and Muslims are linked with any kind of death which happens there. They create a lot of nuisances. They try to divide the society. They spread wrong information about the death of that kid, which is causing a division in the society. It has happened in Madurai, Thanjavur and other districts also.

Through you, I request the hon. Prime Minister to intervene in it and ask his partyman not to do this kind of cheap politics.
