ANSWER

MINISTER OF STATE FOR ELECTRONICS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY
(SHRI JITIN PRASADA)

(a) to (g): As per National Association of Software and Services Companies (NASSCOM), there are more than 1700 GCCs operating in India.

The total revenue generated by these GCCs in last 5 years has grown from USD 40.4 billion in FY19 to USD 64.6 billion in FY24 with CAGR of 9.8%. GCCs have grown from being support centers for basic tasks to a research and development and design hubs.

Together, these GCCs employ more than 19 lakhs persons in the country.

To strengthen India's GCC ecosystem, it was announced in Union Budget 2025-26 that a national framework will be formed to guide states on promoting GCCs in tier II cities. The framework will suggest measures for enhancing availability of talent and infrastructure, building byelaw reforms, and mechanisms for collaboration with industry.

Further, many State Governments such as Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Telangana etc. have come with dedicated policies to support establishment and expansion of GCCs.
