The visitors had made statements and had expressed regret for their action. They had also begged pardon for the same. On a motion moved by the Minister of State in the Ministry of Parliamentary Affairs, the House resolved that the visitors had committed a grave offence and were guilty of the contempt of the House. The House further resolved that in view of the regret expressed by them, they be let off with a stern warning on the rising of the House that day. The motion was adopted. | 5 | 6 |
