

[Dr. Subramanian Swamy]

I think, what is more important is clarity in our mission as to what we consider Chinese reciprocity. What do we want the Chinese to do and what are the channels that we are opening for, to convince that we are at one with them? After all, they have taken a miss to our policy towards Kampuchea and we have been isolated on the issue of Kampuchea. (Interruptions).

PROF. MADHU DANDAVATE: Get it set right.... (Interruptions).

DR. SUBRAMANIAM SWAMY: Yes, certainly. There is a way of getting that back. There is a way of doing that in international diplomacy. There is no doubt about it. We must get back every inch of our territory. In the Janata Government, Shri Morarji Desai had made it clear that India's relations can never be normal with China unless they return the territory which belongs to us. But the question is how to get it. It is here that diplomacy is necessary and it is here that the Government has to show statesmanship.

The last one year has been a dismal record of failures and a record of missed opportunities. I hope the Minister will come and offer some hope for the next year.

With these words, I thank you very much.
